IMMENSE CROWDS TO WELCOME TAFT

President Journeys Into Connecticut, Where He Meets People of State on the Capitol Grounds.

IS A FAMILIAR FIGURE TO ALL Chief Executive is Accompanied by

Attorney General. ARBITRATION THEME OF TALK

Sees Hope for the Establishment of an Arbitration Court to Which All International Controversics Shall Be Submitted.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 7 .- Gray skies but an enthusiastic crowd greeted President Taft on his arrival today in the Connecticut capital in fulfilling a long promised engagement to Senator George P.

Memorial hall in the new state library

Nearly 50,000 people gathered at the state fair grounds to hear the president's views on arbitration.

President Taft is such a familiar figure in Connecticut that he spoke today like one renewing old acquaintances. He deait almost exclusively with the legal technicalities of the arbitration treaties with Engand and France which now await the approval of the American senate.

Position of the Committee. Perhaps the most significant part of his address was as follows: "The majority of the senate committee on foreign relations say they cannot consent that anybody else shall decide for them where a question grising in the future is within the provision of the first article of this treaty; that for them to do so is to delegate their power to another tribunal and is to bind themselves by an obligation which they have no power to assume. "It is the view of the minority, however and with that yiew I am earnestly in ac cord, that the issue where a future difference shall be within the terms of the description of article one of the treaty is an international question arising out of a construction of the treaty under a claim of right by one of the parties to an arbitration and is a question therefore that the president and senate, acting as a treatymaking power, has the right to agree by treaty to submit to a tribunal for final

"In what different way is the treatymaking power invoked when we ask the senate to concur in a treaty which agrees arbitration and when it is asked to agree or not under the treaty? I confess that I cannot see the distinction.

"It is a well known fact that Norway and Sweden have made an agreement to settle all differences except those of vital interest and national honor by submission to the Hague tribunal and they have further agreed that when they differ as to whether the controversy arising is arbiexception, to submit the question to the board of arbitration for its final discretion.

Committee Without Power, "If I understand the attitude of the majority of the senate committee, it is that they have no power and therefore the government has no power to enter into a treaty by which we shall agree to submit to a third person, constituting an independent tribunal, the question where we are bound under a treaty to bide the judgment of the tribunal as to a particular issue.

"The treaty-making power under the constitution, it has been decided by the supreme court, hardly knows definition or law. It is one of the broadest powers conferred by the constitution and it is conferred on the executive and the senate Certainly it is not in the interest of the cause of peace that that power should be limited in such a way that other governments may make treaties of this kind and we may not. "The ideal toward which we are all working with these treaties is the ultimate establishment of an arbitral court to which we shall submit our intentional controversies with the same freedom and the same dependence on the judgment as in case of domestic courts. If the senate cannot bind mony was performed before only relatives itself to submit questions of jurisdiction arising under the treaty as Norway and is most discouraging.

FINAL DECISION NEXT SUNDAY Executive Board of International Machinists to Meet.

ACTION AT ONCE NOT EXPECTED Advisability of Yielding Responsibility to Be Discussed.

WESTERNERS TO CONFER TODAY Members of General Committee of Shop Crafts of the Harriman System Arrive in Sau Francisco.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7 .- Immediate prespect of a strike of shop employes of the Illinois Central rathroad disappeared today and indications were general that the strike probably would never be sanctioned by the international officers of the unions involved. The determination of matters in controversy between the system federation offipers and representatives of the international unions is scheduled to come next Sunday after a meeting of the executive board of the International Association of Machinists. Members of the conference committee of international officers have indicated their disapproval of the strike, but were willing to give the committee of the federated Itlinois Central unions permission on their own responsibility to issue a strike order. In such case, the support of the international unions, particularly in a financial way, would not be granted the federation. The advisability of yielding responsibility to the system federation committee will be discussed further on Sunday by the machinists' union executive board and by representatives of the other eight organizations whose locals are involved in the Iiiinois Central controversy.

W. Fi Kramer, chairman of the international conference committee, said today he expected no action until that time.
